20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The ACTEC shall advise the Secretary on laws and government policies that deal with trade enforcement; identify and recommend programs, policies, and actions to help the United States ensure that U.S. trading partners comply with their trade agreement commitments; and recommend ways that U.S. government enforcement and compliance activities can better support a strong trade and manufacturing agenda and advance the commercial competitiveness of U.S. firms and workers.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The ACTEC shall consist of no more than 20 members appointed by the Secretary. Members shall represent U.S. entities involved in and significantly affected by imports and/or those that heavily export to, or operate in, countries with which the United States has trade agreements. All members must be U.S. Nationals. Members shall be selected based on their ability to carry out the objectives of the ACTEC, in accordance with applicable Department of Commerce guidelines, in a manner that ensures the ACTEC is balanced in terms of points of view, demographics, industry sector, geography of both production infrastructure and product inputs, and company size. Members shall also represent a broad range of products and services and shall be drawn from large, medium, and small enterprises, private sector organization, and other entities, such as, non-governmental organizations, associations, and economic development organizations.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

Estimated Number of Meetings per Year - 4

Estimated Total Meetings - 8

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

E&C currently maintains designated stakeholder access portals for its services concerning discrete trade remedy enforcement and trade agreement compliance problems, but ITA lacks a dedicated forum for stakeholders to engage the Department on matters concerning the formulation and execution of trade enforcement and compliance policies writ large. Existing advisory committee work is largely industry-sector focused or, in the case of the ITAC system, designed for industry to provide advice mainly on trade agreements with respect to negotiating goals and views. This has proven inadequate for ITA's purposes with respect to trade enforcement and compliance, as these issues often involve the intersection of domestic trade laws and international trade agreements. Further, these issues frequently have complex, cross-cutting, effects across multiple industries and multiple trade areas. The establishment of the Advisory Council on Trade Enforcement and Compliance (ACTEC) as a federal advisory committee is necessary in order to advise the Secretary of Commerce on how the U.S. government, and, specifically, the Commerce Department, can effectively enforce our domestic trade laws, and monitor trading partners' compliance with trade agreements to ensure that U.S. industry and workers receive the full benefit of the nation's international trade agreements.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

Not Applicable

21. Remarks

GSA could not complete the FY18 Annual Comprehensive Review for this committee. This committee terminated in response to EO 13875. In addition, no committee members or meetings were ever formed.

Narrative Description

The ACTEC shall advise the Secretary on laws and government policies that deal with trade enforcement; identify and recommend programs, policies, and actions to help the United States ensure that our trading partners comply with their trade agreement commitments; and recommend ways that U.S. trade enforcement and compliance policies and programs can better support a strong trade and manufacturing agenda and enhance the competitiveness of the United States. The ACTEC shall act as a liaison with the various stakeholders represented by the membership, and shall provide a forum to evaluate the current and emerging trade enforcement and compliance concerns of its stakeholders.
