20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

Individual members of the commission serve on various volunteer groups and participate in park – sponsored events throughout the year thus staying abreast of park needs and issues. The Commissioners also communicate directly with the park superintendent both during meetings and individually during the course of the year regarding issues facing the park. Commissioners also frequently communicate to their nominating bodies about actions the park is taking as well as bringing issues and concerns from the nominating bodies to the attention of the full commission and the Department. This is how the Commission provides advice and recommendations to the National Park Service.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The membership is balanced by statute and reflects representation from all of the political jurisdictions along the canal.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The Commission meets approximately one to two times annually, and at such other times as designed by the Superintendent. Commissioners in attendance at meetings discuss and give opinions on a variety of timely, important and relevant issues facing the park.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

The Commission continues to be necessary because the park is spread across 19 political jurisdictions. Reductions in park staffing make it increasingly difficult to make substantive connections with these various communities. To compensate it has been increasingly useful to seek advice and counsel from members of the commission.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

Meetings are open to the public.

21. Remarks

The Commission met in FY23, Chair Lewis recommended that the congressional representatives take action on legislation to renew the commission before it sunsets in 2024 and to fill vacancies within the commission. Chair and DFO agreed on meeting month for FY 2024.

Designated Federal Officer
