20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The committee physically reviews freshly prepared sets of Universal Cotton Standards for conformity with the existing standards. They also make recommendations regarding the establishment or revision of cotton standards.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

Committee membership is balanced to represent all segments of the cotton industry. Membership consists of 12 producers and ginnermen, 6 merchants and 6 textile manufacturers. The overseas members are selected by merchants and textile manufacturing associations who are signatories to the Universal Cotton Standards Agreement with USDA. To ensure that the recommendations of the Committee have taken into account the needs of the diverse groups served by USDA, membership shall include to the extent possible, individuals with demonstrated ability to represent minorities, women and persons with disabilities. Efforts will also be made to obtain geographic balance in committee representation across cotton production areas. Candidates for U.S. committee membership are identified by USDA through outreach to U.S. cotton industry organizations, tribal governments, interest groups, historically black colleges and universities, Hispanic serving institutions, Hispanic Association of Colleges and Universities, etc.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

This committee meets in conjunction with the Universal Cotton Standards Conference which takes place once every four years. The purpose is to physically review the Universal Cotton Grade Standards for American Upland cotton that are prepared by USDA. The committee also makes recommendations regarding the establishment or revision of the Universal Cotton Standards.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

This is the only group with representation of all segments of the U.S. cotton industry and representatives of overseas cotton merchants and textile manufacturers that are directly involved in cotton trading utilizing the Universal Cotton Standards. Their recommendations are essential to USDA in maintaining cotton standards which will support the pre-eminent position of American grown cotton in the world market.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

N/A

21. Remarks

The charter was reestablished on June 1, 2023. FY23 work to solicit for nominations and seat members. The next committee meeting is scheduled for June 2024.

Cost Savings Comments

The Universal Cotton Standards provide the U.S. and international cotton industries with a globally accepted standard for cotton trading. The existence of the Universal Cotton Standards minimizes the need for the creation and production of other physical standards. This results in tremendous cost savings to the U.S. and international cotton industries.
