The DSTAC is a federal advisory committee that will "identify, report, and recommend performance objectives, technical capabilities, and technical standards of a not unduly burdensome, uniform, and technology- and platform-neutral software-based downloadable security system" to promote the competitive availability of navigation devices (e.g., set-top boxes and television sets) in furtherance of Section 629 of the Communications Act. At this meeting, the Committee discussed (i) the scope of the report that it will deliver to the Commission, (ii) the ultimate goals of interested parties with respect to navigation device conditional access and content security, (iii) recommended working groups and the tasks for which they will be responsible, and (iv) other topics related to the DSTAC's work. 02/23/2015 - 02/23/2015

At this second meeting of the DSTAC, the Current Commercial Requirements Working Group and the Technology and Preferred Architectures Working Group presented their findings, the Commission established follow-up working groups, and the committee discussed other topics related to the DSTAC's work. 03/24/2015 - 03/24/2015

At this third meeting, the DSTAC received reports from the Current Commercial Requirements Working Group and the Technology and Preferred Architectures Working Group presented their findings, established follow-up working groups, discussed draft outlines for the committee report and discussed other topics related to the DSTAC's work. 04/21/2015 - 04/21/2015

At this meeting, the Committee received presentations from the Security Requirements for Downloadable Security Working Group (Working Group 3) and the Device Platforms, Variability, And Interfaces Working Group (Working Group 4). The Committee also considered other issues related to the DSTAC's work. 05/13/2015 - 05/13/2015

To discuss draft reports from the Security Requirements for Downloadable Security Working Group (Working Group 3) and the Device Platforms, Variability, And Interfaces Working Group (Working Group 4) and to consider other issues related to the DSTAC's work. 07/07/2015 - 07/07/2015
