20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The committee members will be expected to discuss and analyze information regarding the appropriate approach for the Agency to take to help mitigate the adverse health effects encountered by those exposed to metalworking fluids in the workplace. The members will discuss and analyze information on the risks involved in working with these fluids during the course of their employment, the cost of various solutions under consideration, the benefits associated with the suggested solutions, as well as the technological and economic feasibility and the small business impacts of any recommended solutions. The Committee's recommendations and conclusions will be detailed in a report submitted to the Agency.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The committee will be composed of not more than 15 members who have been selected to represent the various interests involved. The makeup of the Committee shall comply with Section 7(b) of the OSH Act which requires the following: at least one member who is a designee of the Secretary of HHS; at least one designee of a State health and safety agency, and equal numbers of representatives of employers and employees. Section 7(b) of the Occupational Safety and Health Act allows the selection of additional members from professional organizations and national standards-setting groups.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

Meeting will be held as necessary; it is estimated that a minimum of eight meetings will be held over the two years.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

The committee is established under Sec. 7(b) of the Occupational Safety and Health Act to recommend a standard, a guideline or other appropriate response to the dangers of occupational exposure to metalworking fluids.

Such recommended action shall be that which most adequately assures, to the extent feasible, the highest degree of health protection for employees based upon the best available evidence and latest technical and latest scientific data.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

N/A
